Summary
Deliverable 9.2 Ethics and Privacy Protection Manual
WP9
Lead authors: Katerina Touliou (CERTH)

The current document is the first version of PANACEA Ethics Manual and constitutes the Ethics Code of Conduct of Research and it aims to be a reference and living document throughout the duration of the project with respect to ethics issues. It encompasses the Ethics and data privacy policies of the PANACEA project.

Any updates to the Ethics policy and knowledge resulting from the technologies' developments and the pilots' plans, changes in the Ethics profiles of involved partners, elaborations on data clusters and connections that involve ethics and/or raise ethical issues along with any necessary ethical approval documentation will be included in D9.3. Knowledge and decisions made in any Ethics Board meetings and discussions will also be included.

The recruitment, the informed consent process, and templates (apart from the GDPR compliant versions) as well as any aspects related to data privacy are not included in this Deliverable, but they all complement each other and constitute the Ethics and Data Protection Policies of the PANACEA project.

Ethical issues will be respectively discussed in annual reports and Pilots plans Deliverables. Key updates will emerge from PANACEA pilot sites feedback regarding local regulations. legislation and practices along with the obtained ethics approval documents.
